Hello!

Im a smooth brained bitch and need some answers to some questions and I was too afraid to ask but Im done sitting here wondering... so...

So what the heck happened? I was told T+69 was the week we'd see some action post splividend. Aaaaand nothing happened. Now that nothing happened wut mean?

Anyone know what is happening with price action/cycle? Weve traded from 24-26 for what now, 2-3 months straight? What and why is that?

Didn't the DTCC commit national securities fraud? Why is that not being talked about? Did they actually NOT commit any fraud?

Why is GME going down with the market? I was told about GME's negative beta and none of us are selling so how does it keep going down?

Why do we keep hitting 55% DRS'd but then the "tRimMeD aVeRaGe" magically brings it down again.... Wtf? Can someone explain that?

Why do reverse repo numbers matter for the ticker GME?

How much more "ammo" do they have left? I always see apes saying "they are running out of ammo"...yet seems to me they have plenty and can make gme whatever price they need on that given day.

How much longer can they kick this "can" apes always talk about? Its been almost 3 years of the same can getting kicked. Wen over?

What will happen when we DRS 100% the float and they keep trading synthetics like nothings different?

And you know that they will for the last question. Your in denial if you think they won't pull that fuck boy shit.

Anyways. You guys are probably wondering some of these questions as well. I just am sick of seeing the same questions gets asked only to be ignored.

Fyi some of you know think I always complain or am negative... honestly you aren't wrong. I am a very pessimistic person naturally so even though ive read the dd, been here since jan 21 and have 95% of the my shares on cs i still think we can get fucked out of our tendies. The govt will cheat and do anything to make it so. Weve already seen it with the dtcc committing fraud in broad daylight...

DRS GME. Start your infinity pool asap for Blu! I for one won't be selling even one share until it sells for phone numbers.

Have a good weekend all!
