Just a following up... from my yesterdays question or... quest to try and just a have glimpse of how much crime has been committed (if that can even be said )

I went to check the short volume since the beginning of the year ( just 2022) and guess what... there has to be some problem with the data... and the problem must be ... CRIME ??

How can ... all the traded stock since the beginning of this year have a total volume of almost 700 M shares (a bit more than 2x the entire float... ) so far ... no problem... people trade stock (buy and sell) the problem comes when the data says that total short volume was 411 M shares and 285 M shares long just from 2022 so far... that's a difference of 126M shares sold short... and the SI is only around 50M ... that must be a F\*\* joke.

How can the people that protect markets and supervise them (SEC) not do what they were created to do ( protect investments and stop this fuckery ???)

I know... they can hide shorts on puts... on ETFs , mark shorts as longs... bla bla bla what makes me even more sick is knowing that nobody wants to teach people how markets work and level the field so everybody has the same options ... nope there is just fuckery...

I know they want to win us by ... erosion... show us the price going down (by the way... it seems blatant what they do... manipulate price to trigger peoples feelings and sell) , they got it wrong when they messed with us... we can stay here holding ... some might buy more.. some might just hold.. some might DRS ... but in the end... Powel will have to turn the printer back on to pay us... but what a fucking rigged market we have here!

Nevertheless... I'm not here for the money (well I will sell 1 share and retire at due time)... I'm here for the journey and to help create a new system... because my friends... this one is surely a fucking joke that keeps sucking retail money

And I've only seen the short volume of this year....

I'm sorry if i'm making some mistakes, or if i'm saying things that were debunked, but markets should be make to be transparent and not a pile of dog shit wrapped around cat shit... so that only shitty people know how to move around it.

Anyway... hold , DRS and ... well buy more!

Europoor ape here... waiting for RC or Gamestop to deal the cards...

Won't stop, can't stop, GAMESTOP!
