*TLDR: BCG has a long relationship with Leslie Wexner, the founder of L Brands, which includes Victoria's Secret and other companies. Wexner has significant ties to Jeffrey Epstein. And there is even a thread between Wexner and Ken Griffin.***

0. Leslie Wexner

Leslie Wexner is a billionaire, and the richest man in the state of Ohio. Wexner founded L Brands (formerly named Limited Brands) which included brands such as Victoria's Secret, Abercrombie & Fitch, Express and Bed Bath & Body Works.

Leslie Wexner

Wexner married Abigail Koppel, an attorney at a law firm working for Limited Brands, in 1993, and they had 4 children.

Just another boring billionaire, right?

Of course not.

1. Jeffrey Epstein + Leslie Wexner

You all know Jeffrey Epstein of pedophile and human-trafficking fame. I don't dare speculate on his death here. Instead, let's start when Epstein met Wexner and learn about their relationship.

A great Vanity Fair piece details much of their relationship, which I will quote and summarize here.
https://archive.ph/mZtG5

Epstein began his career as a teacher in New York, then moved to trading at Bear Stearns after meeting the CEO whose children were attending Epstein's school. Epstein started at Bear Stearns in 1976 and became a limited partner in 1980, and left a year later due to allegedly violating securities laws. He formed his own company, supposedly helping wealthy clients recover stolen money.

Epstein became involved with Wexner later in the 1980's, before Wexner was married. Epstein pushed aside Wexner's money manager at the time, ultimately gaining power of attorney over Wexner's finances.

Epstein also became involved in Wexner's business, The Limited:

>Epstein often invoked Wexner's authority to make employees feel as if they worked for him. "Epstein would call you and wouldn't give his name. He'd just start talking and expect you to know who it was," a former senior executive said. "He was becoming more and more active in the business. It was really upsetting people." In 1996, as The Limited was preparing to spin off Abercrombie & Fitch into a separate company on the New York Stock Exchange, Epstein flew to Columbus and told executives that he would decide the share price. Executives worried Epstein was committing insider trading because days earlier, someone—they assumed Epstein—had sold an unusually large chunk of Limited stock. "There was so much concern that one of the lawyers looked around the room and said, 'Are we going to have to go to jail for this?'" recalled an executive who attended the meeting. According to the executive, Epstein got his way.

(emphasis added)

They had a long relationship:

>[Wexner's security manager] said beginning in the early aughts, Epstein spent less and less time in Ohio. But publicly Wexner still had glowing things to say about his money manager. In 2003, Wexner told a journalist that Epstein had "excellent judgment and unusually high standards," adding he was "always a most loyal friend."

Epstein didn't need to profit off inside trading though, as he "obtained a New York mansion, a private plane and a luxury estate in Ohio — today valued at roughly $100 million all together — previously owned by Mr. Wexner or his companies." ([<https://archive.ph/Y7zFN>])(<https://archive.ph/Y7zFN>)

Epstein was known to have "recruited" models for Victoria's Secret and take them to the New York mansion. Every room in the place had a surveillance camera; there's a lot more to the story but I won't go into it here. <https://archive.ph/YQs2o>

Victoria's Secret has been in the news the last several years, not just for the connection to Epstein but for other allegations of sexual abuse, a number of which against Ed Rzez, Victoria Secret's former Chief Marketing Officer. Many more details on this creep here: <https://archive.ph/i6gcn>

You may have heard of Epstein's "Little BlackBook"? This book includes contact info for people in Epstein's network, including prominent businessmen, politicians, etc.

It was made publicly available and widely reported on, see for example <https://www.nytimes.com/2019/07/22/style/jeffrey-epstein-little-black-book.html> and <https://epsteinsblackbook.com>

Rzez makes an appearance in the book.

Epstein Black Book, p. 78. <https://epsteinsblackbook.com/black-book-images/78.jpg>

Wexner was also prominently featured in Epstein's Little Black Book.

Epstein Black Book, p. 81. <https://epsteinsblackbook.com/black-book-images/81.jpg>

Wexner claims, in a 2019 letter to his foundation, that he cut ties with Epstein in 2007 when "allegations against Mr. Epstein in Florida were emerging,” and that Epstein stole millions of dollars from his family, a portion of which was returned.

<https://www.wexnerfoundation.org/letter-from-les/>

Nobody knows why it took Wexner over a decade to admit this. He never reported the “stolen” money to law enforcement either.

You be the judge.

2. The Boston Consulting Group (BCG) Connection

We’ve learned a lot about BCG recently. They’ve done a lot of “work” for a lot of companies and government agencies, some of which ended badly. Facts are still being uncovered. Here is what I’ve found.

Wexner is “Exhibit A” in BCG’s thought leadership around the rise of women as a spending powerhouse and consumer behavior. And he’s been paying BCG for decades.

The “grand master”

Wexner was featured in articles too, like What It Takes to Build a Start-Up into a Brand (<https://www.bcg.com/publications/2016/consumer-products-marketing-sales-michael-silverstein-build-start-up-brand>)(<https://www.bcg.com/publications/2016/consumer-products-marketing-sales-michael-silverstein-build-start-up-brand>))

>Today, Leslie Wexner is CEO, chair, and founder of L Brands, a company with a $25 billion market cap and two primary brands, Victoria’s Secret and Bath & Body Works. In his career, he has created The Limited, Express, Bath & Body Works, Abercrombie, and Limited Too, and has expanded Victoria’s Secret from 3 stores to 1,500. He is a master of all things retail—store operations, design, merchandising, merchandise selection, pricing, promotion, employee engagement, visual excitement, retail as theater, and, most important, invention. He became a master by working every job from housekeeping to purchasing. He is blessed with natural consumer marketing skills, and he can create specialty stores that target narrow segments, fulfill unmet needs, and reach out to adjacent consumer segments.

(emphasis added)

And another article, Don’t Ask Your Customers What They Want (Because They Don’t Know Until You Show Them)* (<https://www.bcg.com/publications/2015/marketing-sales-consumer-products-rocket-do-not-ask-your-customers-what-they-want>)(<https://www.bcg.com/publications/2015/marketing-sales-consumer-products-rocket-do-not-ask-your-customers-what-they-want>))

>At 78, Wexner remains at center stage in the major decisions of the business. He is a born “rocketeer”: a serial retail inventor and Renaissance man, equally comfortable in the worlds of art, architecture, history, and the shopping behaviors of women around the world.

And other BCG books like Trading Up: Why Consumers Want New Luxury Goods--and How Companies Create Them (<https://tinyurl.com/2u757hzm>)(<https://tinyurl.com/2u757hzm>))

“thought partners”

In 2003 Limited Brands named Neil Fiske, a BCG partner, CEO of Bath & Body Works (<https://archive.ph/LW0WE>)(<https://archive.ph/LW0WE>))

Press release

Wow, it's 2003 and the ONLY client this guy has had since 1997 is Limited Brands? That's got to be a very expensive consulting bill.

In fact, it has been since at least 1996 that BCG has worked with Wexner. In the Rocket book cited above the BCG authors state "[w]e have known Wexner for 20 years." The book was published in 2016.

Oh, and Neil was able to get himself into the next BCG book, Treasure Hunt: Inside the Mind of the New Global Consumer (https://tinyurl.com/yrrw74d7)

You were already advising him, Neil, why would you getting a job there "\"make it better\""?

The author or co-author of all these BCG books and articles covering Wexner and Victoria's Secret was Michael J. Silverstein.

Silverstein started at BCG in 1980 and recently moved to the Carlyle Group.

* An interesting tangent is Silverstein was appointed to the Board of Directors of FTD Companies (what an ironic name) in 2014. FTD Companies for many years sold flowers and other things to consumers through a network local businesses. What happened to FTD? Bankruptcy and restructuring in 2019, of course!

The timeline of when Jeffrey Epstein and BCG were "working" with Wexner and the Limited clearly overlaps. Given Epstein's involvement I find it hard to believe there is no way he and BCG did not interact.

Has BCG added value over their 20 years working with Wexner? Who the fuck knows. Maybe they were just taking advantage of an old, horny, introverted billionaire. Kind of like how Jeffrey Epstein did.

3. The Ken Griffin Connection

Things get a little more speculative here and I will be up front: I have not been able to directly tie Jeffrey Epstein to Ken Griffin. But there are some things that make you go hmmm...

https://preview.redd.it/1k6jxleefju81.jpg?width=404&format;=jpg&auto;=webp&s;=9e7901fb6952bdefa2cc1126893d0235c8c01478

Let me introduce you to Teresa P. Vieira. Ms. Vieira is a resident manager/personal assistant in NYC. She has included some interesting work experience on her LinkedIn profile which is publicly available.

Source: LinkedIn

Let's walk through Ms. Vieira's professional background.

First, she worked for Mortimer Zuckerman from 1996 - 1999. Mort Zuckerman is a billionaire who co-founded Boston Properties, one of the largest real estate investment trusts in the US, and is the owner of US News and World Report.

Ms. Vieira experience with Mort Zuckerman

Remember Epstein's "Little Black Book"? Zuckerman makes an appearance.

Epstein Black Book, p. 82. <https://www.epsteinsblackbook.com/black-book-images/82.jpg>

This NY Post article provides some interesting tidbits on Zuckerman (<https://nypost.com/2021/07/21/leon-black-dragg-mort-zuckerman-into-guzel-ganieva-case/>)(<https://nypost.com/2021/07/21/leon-black-dragg-mort-zuckerman-into-guzel-ganieva-case/>):

- * Zuckerman claims he wasn't involved in or was aware of Epstein's sexual crimes.
- * Zuckerman and Epstein made "an unsuccessful bid to buy New York Magazine in 2003 and teamed again a year later to invest in Radar Magazine, which later became Radar Online."
- * Leon Black, former head of Apollo Global Management (Apes are familiar with this walking turd), has tried to drag other billionaires, including Zuckerman into a ["r" word that ends with "ape"] case filed against him by a Russian model.
- * Black claims "■■■■she signed the NDA in exchange for $21 million to keep quiet about their six-year long consensual affair."
- * Black was found to have "paid Epstein $158 million for tax advice and estate-planning services between 2013 and 2017." ■■

Kind of sketchy, let's see where Ms. Vieira worked next:

Ms. Vieira experience with Leslie and Abigail Wexner

Fucking really? She worked for Leslie and Abigail Wexner for 10 years, a large part of which was when Epstein - Wexner's best friend - was doing his dirty deeds?

>Liaised with domestic and foreign dignitaries and secret service agents during residence visits and special events.

You mean like Bill Clinton and his Secret Service agents when he's taking flights on the Lolita Express? Or a foreign dignitary like Prince Andrew?

I'm sure Ms. Vieira had no idea who Epstein was or what was going on... right?

Where could she have worked next?

Ms. Vieira experience with Ken Griffin V Griffin Family Services

The personal assistant and residential manager of Jeffrey Epstein's #1 Billionaire Cash-Cow went to work for none other than Kenneth C. Griffin, founder of Citadel.

Mort Zuckerman, the Wexners, and Ken Griffin... Please understand, I am NOT accusing Ms. Vieira of anything. But I can only imagine this shit this lady has seen working for multiple billionaires, some with very close ties to Jeffrey Epstein.

4. Final Thoughts

Apes, there's so many threads here that can be pulled, as usual this just scratches the surface.

I have looked but have yet to find solid evidence linking Ken Griffin to Jeffrey Epstein. It's all circumstantial connections, for example they both donated significant sums to Harvard, or with several degrees of separation, such as the Epstein -> Wexner -> Vieira link.

This needs more eyes on this to uncover more facts. There's a lot of smoke but I haven't found the fire.

That's all I have for now.
