Given the know corruption of gov, wallstreet, and crypto exchanges. Most recently with ftx who sbf had been buddy buddy with gov officials, making them boatloads of money via contributions and then rug pulling it to roll out a centralized digital currency right after ftx fall and midterms. Can we legally start making running lists of all these individuals, their families, business partners, voting, and market trades? They don't seem to mind committing crime but if we watch them and their families closely, I don't think they'd like that. Thoughts? Buy,hold, DRS GME
