Great end to the week- felt like old times not sleeping and checking reddit every 10 minutes for GME updates. Now that things are starting to boil again its a good time to remember that big numbers might be exciting, but that's not why I'm here. I'm here for numbers that will hurt the biggest hedge funds in the world. I'm here for numbers that will buy generational wealth by only selling one share. I'm here for no cell no sell. I'm here for infinity.

Keep this turtle on your desk, and when numbers start to grow take a look at it and remember that you're here for infinity. Cheers!

PS- be patient, I'm sending them all out but will have to do it in batches
