For anyone wondering how the CPI data will influence us in our push up, I think that we have a small area of resistance (see here). If we break this area, we may fall for a bit again... That being said, if we continue to hold, this area becomes all that much stronger. Importantly, I have been looking at some dark pool data and it seem as though some people are making reasonably large purchases on GME right now. Fingers crossed...Be careful everyone!!! :)
