I am a relatively new ape and pretty smoth to say the least. I have managed thanks to a lot of work to be a XXXX GME holder. I have only bought thru Computershare, my question now is there a better way or should i just stick to this method. My dilemma comes when i want to buy for example today with a short day. Should i still place the order on Computershare today after market close or wait till Monday?

I was hoping to buy and extra 1000 shares of GME.

Any input is greatly appreciated.

Thanks.
