#The rate of new CS accounts over time :

34,000 in October

15,000 in November

17,000 in December

10,000 in January

8000 in February (28 days)

10,000 in March

12,000 in April

10,000 in May

4500 in June (before splividend announcement)

10,500 in July

16,300 in August (splividend crime)

#1300 half way through September ■

I've been saying it for a long time. Now I'm more convinced than ever that all Redditors who own GME already did their first DRS or they're not going to. Yes, I know everyone continues to add more shares, but our new account growth is quickly drying up and our overall DRS rate could drop significantly.

#It is absolutely critical that we educate the masses outside of Reddit about DRS. There are MANY millions of GME shares held by people outside of Reddit that have no clue what DRS even is. If you're doing something, please share with us by making a post or comments! If you'd like to see what you can do to help, please PM me.

#Changing the world is what's at stake!

Edit: changed halfway through August to September
