Was my SStonkie post removed?

Here it is: GME

I would like your opinion regarding what I believe is a new FUD campaign designed to keep people from booking shares vs keeping in Plan. Obligatory - you do you as an individual investor. That said: First, why the heavy backlash and push months ago that plan is as good as book? CS confirmed that true drs was book. Second, why all the recent posts about how they're the same thing? Third, why all the fud about auto sales of fractionals? Anybody who plays in here knows you can simply book em after hours and then cancel the transaction to sell. Fourth, you can reinvest dividends for book shares - I did. My gut tells me that while CS plan shares are way better than broker, there still must be some Accounting loophole or chart recognition that somebody is exploiting or needs to exploit. Why else all the Fud. My last few comments on related posts were attacked with false information so I'm starting to think something is up. Oh yeah, RC just released some books so I guess I'll BOOK EM.
