Does anyone have a screenshot of when GME's low for the day hit $26.37?

Got word that it was 09:30:13 from somewhere, but no proof of that.

According to the graph on Webull (only use them to look at Level 2) it was first sometime during 09:31.

Why I wonder? Well I placed an order for 100 GME a' $26.38 at 09:30:15. It was not filled.

So the only reason why it was not filled is if the price of $26.37 happened before 09:30:15. If it's not, it suggests that my order never made it to the market, maybe dropped into some darkpool.

I have sent the question to my broker but have not received an answer. I am not going to give out the name of the broker until I have an answer to my question.

If it smells like crime, I'll make a new post with screenshots to back up my claims.
