I am very new to this. Initially I was just interested and wanted to see if I could make some money. However the more I learn about GameStop the less I EVER want to sell.

There is something amazing about being apart of the ape movement. I remember 2008 when my father lost all of his businesses that he spent his life making. He still has a small office opposite his old business and everyday he has to pass it. 2008 caused him a heart attack and in all likely reduced his lifespan and caused him huge depression.

I want to see these fuckers pay. I will keep buying and DRSing every penny I can afford to spend.

I want to see this happen.
