It's been tough.. you put up a good fight. I've wanted to quit, sometimes I question my convictions and consider if I really am in a cult, but we've come too far to quit. Quitting was never an option because we have a passion and share the same values and convictions. It's not often you see a group of individuals come together to make big change and uncover the greatest secrets of dark money. All corruption will come to an end and we believe your end is close.. because we can taste it. We're hungry and we will not stop until we're satisfied. Never did you imagine testing our resolve would be so hemorrhaging on your portfolio. As much as we love games and GameStop, this isn't a game, this is our life. We're hungry and we will persevere to take care of those we love and care for.

Just know.. we're still here, we're still breathing, we're still living and the greatest of them all we're still learning! We're learning through the adversity and we're resilient enough to get up when we're knocked down. When we fall down we get up and lift each other up because that is what we do.

We're all students of our beloved..

This is the age of the activist and apes, we will fix the wrong doings of the world by the greedy and crony capitalist. We are the misfit disrupters that will change the world for the better.
