I've been trying to direct register my shares for weeks, it only gives 3 chances per day to register but it has to see the shares before you can register an account with cs it's just not finding my account, I'm probably doing something wrong but idk with the whole Ftx collapse it should kick some of the more lazy apes in gear.

I've just always thought that having all retail in one boat seemed like retail Suicide but idk what's gonna happen but I would rather have the shares in my name at this point than the dtcc.

Obligatory Gme to the moon yada yada

I bought a stock that I like and in January 21 and haven't sold a single share fuck Ken Cordell Griffen with a mayo covered bed post
