Hello! In the good spirits of gme and our fellow cat, I was wondering if someone or everyone would like to work as a team to go through DFV posts and discuss the possibilities of meanings.

This would include understanding the context of the gif used and when. So a team of gif collectors, a team of date collectors, a team of data collectors that would look at what happened to the stock or in financial world overall when said gif was posted and a team that watches clips of said gifs and gets the full context.

Call it an easter egg hunt... first to the key!!
