So for the past few weeks I have been trying to transfer my account from WeBull to Ameritrade, but my GME shares haven't budged. Been bugging them every few days about it and getting a response of "Oh. It's ACATS." Now they're telling me that it's because my shares are lend out. I checked, nope. Not signed up for that.

WeBull: "We are checking with our transfer team. Thank you in advance for waiting."

Got me with the ol' doing it without my permission gag.
