

Title: IBKR time to DRS has gone up exponentially. Used to take 2-4 days. Now it's taking over two weeks. THEY DONT HAVE THE SHARES?!

Had some shares held there for a while and we're good and settled so the transfer should've been instantly completed within the same day according to computershare and 2-4 days based on past IBKR transfers.

But now it's taking over two weeks and they're still not transferred yet. Just says "Acknowledged-in progress"

Now IBKR is the big boys, they shouldn't need so much time to send out my gme assets that I already paid for months ago. Unless they just don't have them on hand and can't get a hold of them.

Very irresponsible way to run a business. They loan out hundreds of thousands of shares available for shorting yet they don't even hold enough to complete their transfers.

Their terms of service also says that they can liquidate my assets upon bankruptcy of their partners, counterparty, or for any other reason. I really do not feel comfortable keeping anything there and just want them in my own name.
