As an old guy who has seen these cycles before, I think U.S. politicians and their cronies and associated criminal connections are working overtime right now. It's all a lie.

The U.S. economy is more of a farce than ever. Here in America most elections during a bad economy tend to go against the incumbents. What we're seeing in the market today is all smoke and mirrors. US elections are around the corner, and as always, whoever is in power wants to keep power (they're all creeps imho), so they are straining hard to hold things together just long enough, with bubble gum, scotch tape to get re-elected. They may not be able to keep it together long enough, but I feel like they're trying. And when US elections are over, or maybe sooner, we may see an armageddon level event.

We saw GME follow the market today, but what we're seeing is just general manipulation. GME is the golden ticket. We have much bigger greenier days ahead!

Buy, Hodl, DRS. THIS IS THE WAY! ■■■■■
