Hey guys, I'm looking for some more information about ComputerShares Stock Gift Transfer Program.

My sister called me this morning asking to get into the market, with little knowledge on where to go and how to start. I want to get her in a Transfer Agent (Specifically ComputerShare so I can sway her towards helping lock the GME float). I know I can gift her a stock and wanted to give up one of my GME shares to send to her, but am unsure how to do this with a new ComputerShare account or how she will get her account set up after the transfer has been initiated... anyone able to give me a few wrinkles and help my sister start safely buying stocks??
