So when are we going to focus on the brokers that don't support transferring your positions "DRS" and literally spam them to literally force them to support transferring yours shares.

Etoro allows you to take your cryptos out, but don't allow you to transfer any in from an exchange, wallet, etc... how come we can't transfer GME out eh ?!?! and I'm talking about Etoro cuz that's my own experience with them. "they currently don't support it" but eventually they will... who knows when though

Me and my girl basically in on GME since Feb 2021, we got 911 shares that are duh RED since forever and I won't even close that position on Etoro to see these fucks benefit anything from our positions and it hurts to go on a loss like that. These shares were bought pre DRS days and ever since we started buying through IBKR and transfer to CS cuz that was the easiest option for us.

We do have 304 shares DRS'd atm (and that's less than 25% of our GME portfolio) so imagine how many out there are stuck like us with these brokers that don't support transferring position and can't close their positions because they are down 30%, 40% and more..
