Repost to reach as many people as possible as it seems to be useful to many. (warning 200 slides)

If you want to help yourself relax about Gamestop, the absolutes and more fully understand it's inevitability; or want to help explain it to someone you know, this could be of use to you. If you want to share it around as this saga continues, I encourage you to do that! It's a very stressful yet exciting time currently and I hope everyone can be comfortable with their certainty and if you just want to understand the inner workings of this situation better, a brief read could help you out. I also want to mention due to the incessant FUD as of late, that I won't be taking a lot of major fundamental criticisms about the content very seriously. I'm sure there could be a potential typo or a spelling mistake, something i forgot to add, but I am a University student with some experience interpreting data and explaining it the best I can. I won't be debating in the comments about proven DD or blatant facts. There is personal bias, as is unavoidable but otherwise it is a rather colourless explanation of everything from how swaps work to historical occurrences such as the botched Split Dividend.

If you have something else you want to say about it, sure! But trying to dismantle the House of cards DD or similar and I won't be taking you very seriously and I will be ignoring any other unimportant comments, as is needed during these manipulative times. I hope anyone is able to find this useful in the exciting days that are very near! And I hope everyone is taking care! Thank you for your time I have greatly appreciated this community during the last 2 years. I hope you enjoy the read!
