There's one idea floating around that we probably have bought the entire Gme float multiple times over. If that's correct shouldn't we have already Drsd the float already?

Certainly a high percentagr of us haven't DRS ed for various reasons but I would expect that if we had bought the float multiple times over due to synthetics, that we would be 90+% already direct registered.

I need something more than "crime" or check the DD. I need a serious answer on a specific question.

Thanks. Moon already!!
