I have been on a Crayon diet since Feb. 2021 and finally an XX holder. I am just retarded enough to buy, DRS, hit the Crayon buffet, repeat.

Today I called TDA to DRS my most recent purchase and was connected with a new employee "Lucas" who had not gone thru this process/request before. He initially instructed me to call back tomorrow and speak directly with the transfer team.

I responded "I have completed these requests over the phone after hours in the past without issue, can you please double check?" Lucas proceeds to look thru his system for the specific work instruction to complete this, he was very accommodating.

After a few short moments he comes back and says that all my GME and @PE are all in "SG status". I ask for clarification on what SG status is and Lucas had no answer as he has not encountered this before, he proceeds to dig further.

There is a long pause while he is working on his end and I ask again, can you please tell me what SG status means? He tells me

"failure to locate"!

I voiced my concern and ask to elevate this to his manager as I have a cash account and part of my DRS shares were purchased weeks ago so TDA should have my shares. Once connected with the manager I think I get the lip service by his response "this was a miscommunication on our end. I apologize, your shares are in good standing."

This may be tinfoil hat but I am thinking did I overhear a novice employee disclose info that I shouldn't have heard?

Either way I will wait for MOON and will just BUY and DRS harder. LFG!!!!
