

Title: What if DRS is actually suppressing GME price

Author: Chirriche

Created 2022-10-24 19:34:34 UTC

Permalink: /r/GME/comments/ycke5n/what_if_drs_is_actually_suppressing_gme_price/

Url: https://www.reddit.com/r/GME/comments/ycke5n/what\_if\_drs\_is\_actually\_suppressing\_gme\_price/

I always have wondered why DRS is pushed so hard in SS, you can't even question anything about it because you get downvoted right away, any pro-DRS post is upvoted without hesitation.

In the good old days any positive or relevant post was downvoted immediately, but that never happens with pro-DRS posts, that definitely makes it suspicious.

When people HODL at the DTCC, there are lots of shares parked there, shares that are not being sold, logic tells me that the algorithm must move prices up in order to attract sellers, but what happens if those parked shares are not parked at the DTCC anymore?

This is logic, it's like insiders' shares, those shares are no being sold, but that does not mean investors are not selling, they are not taken into account to move prices up to attract sellers, I think the same might be happening with DRS, it's been a long time since we saw a good run.

Maybe all the DRS movement is actually helping the GME shorts.

Any thoughts on this?

Any adults?

u/atobitt

u/criand