Funsnacks had some of the best DD I've seen and now it's gone. He served up hits such as "GameStop Sears and the Cancellation of Bill Gates" "Penultimate Peril: Ark invest and the mechanics of failed securitization" and "Melvin Capital Misdirection: The Plotkin Thickens" I have saved text copies on various drives (tin foil, duh) but anyone know if there's full copies with images out there in one of the DD libraries? Snacks' stuff was fantastic, rigorously scholarly, routinely downvoted to oblivion and inexplicably tough to search for even when using the proper terms - so I know that he was sniffing up the right tree. I'll reupload his DD this week if it has been scrubbed but if you guys have any info on this and or WHY good DD has a habit of disappearing off of Reddit I would love to know the mechanics of how Reddit can keep disappearing/hiding this stuff

Cheers,
