Hey there! I really hope that someone that has already experienced the same could help me 'cause I'm getting really anxious..

I've actually got my Computershare account locked and right now it says "Your account is locked, please contact computershare".

Yesterday I logged in to check if there was any problem about my GME last transfer from IBKR to CS and hopefully there wasn't but after a few hours, I got locked out when I was trying to log in.

I called Computershare and almost all the representatives told me that someone is going to call me next week in order to review my case and then unlock my account. It was locked for security reasons.

However, a representative told me that I'll have to send them a letter with a medallion or notary stamp.

This scares me 'cause I am Italian and I don't know HOW and especially WHERE to get these stamps here! Moreover, it takes days or weeks to get a letter sent to the US!

Has anyone ever experienced this? Has anyone received a call similar to mine and managed to get his account back by phone? Please, if you have any information, feel free to share it with me.. I would really appreciate it!

As always, Apes strong together and don't forget to BUY, HOLD and DRS!
